

Anna Rose Marx, Esq.

Senior Associate | Social Enterprise & Nonprofit Practice

 1-877-FPLGLaw

 LinkedIn

 amarx@forpurposelaw.com

Anna Marx serves as a Senior Associate at FPLG, and she advises both nonprofit organizations and social enterprises on corporate matters including entity formation, contract negotiation, governance, and compliance. She also advises businesses and social enterprises with regard to financing.

For ten years, Ms. Marx worked in nonprofits both within and outside the United States. She applies her familiarity with nonprofit management and organization to provide particularized and practical guidance to her clients. She counsels clients on complex transactions including licensing, leasing, and distribution arrangements as well as on matters related to intellectual property, real estate, employment, cybersecurity and data privacy.

Ms. Marx loves spending time outside with her family, exploring cities, and adventuring abroad.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Social Enterprise & Business Law →

Nonprofit & Tax Exempt Organizations →

ADMISSIONS

- Washington, DC Bar

EDUCATION

- Juris Doctor, Georgetown University Law Center (cum laude)
- Master of Arts, Public Policy, Tel Aviv University (magna cum laude)
- Bachelor of Arts, Politics & Philosophy and Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh (summa cum laude)