

I love working at FPLG because the people we assist are doing their part to change the world. A quote I believe all of these nonprofit leaders embody is one by Mahatma Gandhi, which says, "The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others." Assisting people who truly represent that ideal is incredibly rewarding.

Haley Harris serves as the Executive Relationship Manager at FPLG, working out of the Laramie, Wyoming office. Haley oversees the primary marketing and relationship development efforts at FPLG.

Haley earned her undergraduate degree in Health Sciences with a minor in Psychology from Mount St. Mary's University in Maryland in 2022. Her passion for business led her to pursue further education, culminating in the completion of her Master's in Business Administration from the same institution in 2023. Throughout her educational career, Haley has been deeply involved in the world of sports, both as a player and coach of rugby, showcasing her leadership and teamwork skills, which she brings to FPLG. She excels in content development, ensuring that FPLG's message resonates with its audience.

In Haley's free time, she finds joy in reading, outdoor activities, continuing her passion for rugby, and spending time with her senior dog, Zoe.
